

Objectivity Case History

Customer Information

Customer: Siemens Public Communications Networks Group
Industry: Telecom
Application Domain: SDH telecommunications transmission systems
Status: Closed deal $■■■M in 1993
Platform: Sun Solaris
Compiler: C++
Other Tools: No
Country: Germany
Language: German and English

Buying Criteria

Stability and high availability and credible reputation of Micram in Germany. Very strong relationship between salesperson and Siemens.

Why Objectivity

According to Siemens, the OSI-compatible data storage into the NE's management information base (MIB) and Solaris compatible.

As of 1998, more than 5000 of this product has been sold around the world. Went into production in 1995. Still using 3.8 and cancelled their maintenance in 1997 due to the fact that Objectivity version 3.8 has never failed.

Name of product is SYNEC – The TransXpress Controller Solution. Also known as the S/M 1 and the S/M 4. 1 and 4 gigabit Synchronous Multiplexer.

Contact Information

Objectivity Rep: Rick ter Horst.
Distributor: Matthias Frei (Micram)
Customer Contact:
Phone:
Email: